Focus on my actions! Actions show character!

The Legend of the Mother of All Diamonds

The legend began many years ago in a small village in South Africa. A caring school teacher placed a box on her desk with a small sign that read, "The Mother of All Diamonds". Students were asked to wait until the last day of school to see the precious stone.

One little boy couldn't wait and found black rocks. The teacher explained that those black rocks would change into diamonds. Diamonds start out as worthless lumps of coal. After time and pressure they change into the most valuable stones on earth. You are like a diamond, in fact, each of you has a diamond inside waiting to be discovered!
